Gene Warhurst is an Alabama attorney who started his career in 1987 working for the Hartford Insurance Co. as a property and auto claims adjuster. Gene's in-depth knowledge and acquisition of post-graduate national insurance designations, including the gold-standard known as the CPCU, allowed him to advance to Senior Property, Car Accident, and Personal Injury Claims Manager during his insurance career. After leaving the insurance industry, Gene attended law school and, upon receiving his Juris Doctorate in 1995, he has become a champion for policyholders who have had their claims denied, delayed, or underpaid by the insurance companies with whom he is so intimately familiar.

Today, Gene represents individuals for automobile accidents, motorcycle accidents, trucking accidents, wrongful death, and all areas of personal injury. He also represents business owners and individuals for property insurance claims, arising out of fire, hurricanes, tornadoes and a variety of other causes of loss. Gene is admitted to practice law in the United States Supreme Court, all Alabama State Courts, the Southern District of Alabama, the Middle District of Alabama, the Northern District of Alabama, and the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals. Gene is a member of the Mobile County Bar Association and the Alabama State Bar. Gene is also a member of the Million dollar Advocates and multi-million-dollar advocates.
